SARM is pleased to partner with the Saskatchewan Ministry of Agriculture and the Alberta Ministry of Agriculture and Irrigation to support the safe implementation of Emergency Use Registration of strychnine in the 2026 and 2027 seasons. Critical information about the strychnine stewardship program, including mandatory training, is provided below.

Strychnine Stewardship Program

The provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan have developed guidelines and requirements pertaining to the access to, use, and application of strychnine to control Richardson's ground squirrels. Completing prescribed training is required as one of the eligibility requirements.

Please review your province's full guidance on strychnine and Richardson's ground squirrels.

Required Training

One part of the Strychnine Stewardship Program is the completion of online-only training for both municipal administrators and producers.

There is training specifically for producers and for rural municipal administrators. Please ensure you complete the training that fits your role, or you may have to retake it. Municipal administrators who are also producers should take the municipal administrator training.

Training Schedule

Access to the Strychnine Stewardship Training for the 2026 season is available from May 4 to August 1, 2026.

Reporting Process

After completing the training in full, you will be able to download a certificate of completion. Please retain this for your records and bring it to your RM office.

For producers, two (2) business days after completing the training, your municipality will be able to confirm the completion of your training. There are other eligibility requirements beyond the training that you must complete prior to accessing strychnine. Please see the Saskatchewan Strychnine Stewardship Guidelines or Alberta's Richardson's Ground Squirrel Control website for further details.

Please wait at least two business days after completing the training before contacting your municipality to begin the process of accessing strychnine.

Registration Process

For instructions on registering for the training, refer to the guide linked below. Please be sure to select the correct municipality when registering. The municipality selected must be eligible to distribute strychnine. Typically, it is the municipality in which you have your home or the greatest amount of land. Once selected, the municipality cannot be changed unless the account is deleted and the training re-taken.
